

18. Swim Ladder and bathing platform

The yacht is equipped with a manually lift/down transom (swimming platform) that also functions as a transom seat/helm when the transom is closed. Keep the line hard and care all the way while you are lift and down the platform to avoid fall down and platform's damage. There is a removable swim ladder in the cockpit locker. The swim ladder has a lanyard attached to it that allows you to secure the ladder while in use. The transom should remain closed and secured when under sail and motor. Once you reach your anchorage or dock, feel free to open the transom for easy access to your boat or gangway.

Always use the safety lanyard while using the swim ladder to prevent losing the ladder.

Attention:Keep the platform closed while sailing, as well as in the anchor, when a high wave hits the platform. Otherwise, the platform would be damaged.
